Twins Community Fund Hosts Coaches Clinic

On March 31 thru April 2, the Minnesota Twins and Playball! MN hosted their annual coaches’ clinic at Target Field. The Playball! MN, a program supported by the Twins Community Fund, promotes and aims to improve youth baseball and softball throughout Twins Territory. One way to improve youth baseball and softball is to equip the youth coaches with everything they need to effectively teach the game and other life lessons to their players. The coaches’ clinic provides the perfect learning environment for our coaches to grow as coaches and prepare for the season. This year’s clinic featured multiple breakout sessions, led by knowledgeable coaches and former players. The coaches had the opportunity to learn new strategies, tips, tricks, and connect with other baseball coaches within Twins Territory. Breakout sessions covered topics of hitting, pitching, catching, and coaching philosophy. When asked about the impact the coaches clinic has, Shane Bloomquist, a breakout session speaker remarked; “What a great way to network, network with other coaches. We want to help others be able to teach them and share information, ways different coaches do things and find a way to improve our skills.” With this success, the clinic is set to return again this year.

Minnesota Twins excited to participate in upcoming LGBTQ+ events

As part of our 265-day Diversity and Inclusion commitment, the Minnesota Twins are currently partnering with various organizations in this LGBTQ+ community, such as Gay for Good, and Quorum in many events and future activities. Look out for Minnesota Twins during the 2018 Twin Cities Pride Festival, which will be held on June 23rd and June 24th in Uptown Minneapolis. During the two day festivities, the Twins will be walking in the parade and will have tents with games for everyone. Also, on June 19th, the Twins will be celebrating Pride Night at Target Field. A beautiful Twins Pride Night kit will be included with every Pride Night Ticket package purchased. Twins Target Field hosts Green Card Voices’ Immigrant Author Summit

The Minnesota Twins have been partnering with a local, a Minnesota-based non-profit, known as Green Card Voices (GCV). This organization was started to give our Spanish-speaking audience an outlet for their talent, and to reach more diverse audiences. Color analyst Tony Oliva is a man who rarely needs no introduction. During his playing days with the Twins, he was a2-time American League MVP and a3-time All-Star. He is the only player to win batting titles in his first two seasons and was the winner of the American League batting crown in 1965 and 1966. Today, he is a Minnesota Twins legend Tony Oliva broadcast the Twins games and engages with fans, shepherd the Minnesota Twins and Green Card Voices’ Immigrant Author Summit at three different venues throughout the Twin Cities. One of these venues was Target Field, the home of the Minnesota Twins Target Field (along with the other Minnesota Twins arena). The Summit was held on March 23rd and 24th and 25th, Green Card Voices’ Immigrant Author Summit at Target Field. Click for more information on the Minnesota Twins Spanish language radio broadcasts.
